We've got a school, We've got a yell, We've got a team that fights like --Hey there. Hi there, Baby in a high chair -Who Put 'Em Up There -Ma, Pa, Sis Room Bahl CENTRAL BRANESI We've got spirit, yes are We're the Class of '82 We've got spirit, as you can sec We're the Class of '831 We've got spirit, we've got more We're the Class of '84 We've got spirit, we're alive We're the Class of '85.

Tradition: More than a concept

One of the oldest traditions at Central High School is the Friendship Chain. An anchor was purchased by the class of 1902. Since 1928, every senior class has added a link to the chain. After the class of 1982 adds their link, there will be 54 links to the chain.

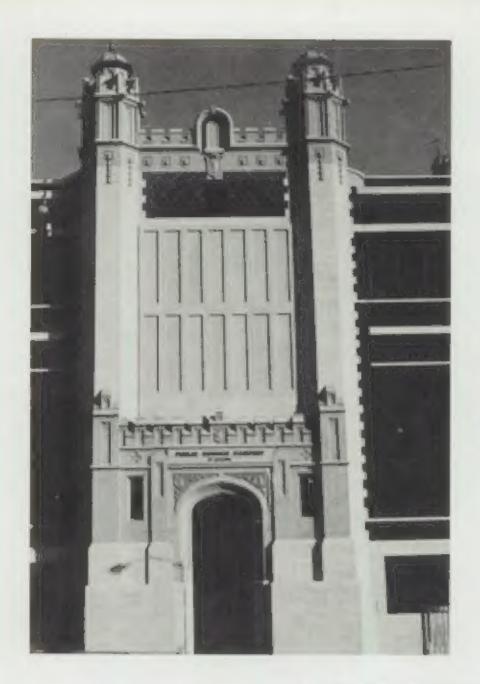

The Appeal to the Great Spirit has become known as a symbol of pride for Central students. The statue itself is a gift from the class of 1923. The marble base is from the class of 1953. The plaque on the front of the base is a donation from the class of 1966. The original statue stands in front of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

Senior rings are ordered each year by the junior class. Unlike other schools, Central has maintained the same basic ring design for 28 years. The only change has been substituting a picture of the old building with a picture of a brave. Central owns a copyright on the ring design.

As years go on, students need something to help capture and hold on to their memories, therefore, each year the Tom Tom is published ... and the beat goes on ...

Why is the Public Service Company building in our yearbook? A few years back, their building was our school, Tulsa Central High. That is where our Pride, Tradition, Spirit, Love, and our Beat began.

No matter where, old Central (Public Service Company) or here at Central High School at 33rd and West Edison, Central students still show their Pride, Love, Loyalty, and Spirit. As years progress, Central students will continue to come here each day to express their love, dedication, and loyalty to their school and, of course, to get their education.

... THE BEAT GOES ON

Spirit Week October 5-9

Spirit Week, October 5-9, was a time when all Braves took pride in loyalty to Central. We wore our red and white (oops! Crimson and Cream), funny hats and ties, decorated doors, bashed cars, and screamed our lungs out at the bonfire

The mighty JUNIOR Class pulled away from the rest of the Braves in the door decorations, winning all three. The theme was "RUIN THE RANGERS." Mrs. Chee's homeroom was the winner, followed by Mrs. Felible's homeroom, 2nd place; Mr. Paulson's homeroom, 3rd place. Chants of "83-3-3-3" filled the gymnasium, also "we've got spirit, we've got more," and "we're alive in 85" were screamed by many sophomores and freshmen

At the pep assembly on Thursday, the winning class was announced. The Senior Class - 1982. Chants of "Seniors got the Drum" echoed through Central's halfs for days

Also as a part of Spirit Week, cheerleaders chose Senior guys to be their Mr. Spirit during Spirit Week. They cheered at the pep assembly, bonfire, car bash and homecoming.

Those chosen were Maury Campbell, Tim Cervantez, David Curd, Dennis Finn. Paul Jorritsma, Paul LeBlanc, Mike Ramsey, Greg Smith, Robert Surber and Reggie Tinker. The 1981-82 Mr. Spirit was Donna Talburt's Mr. Spirit, Robert Surber.

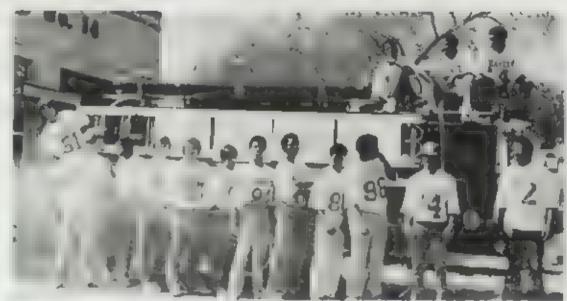

Braves are red hot

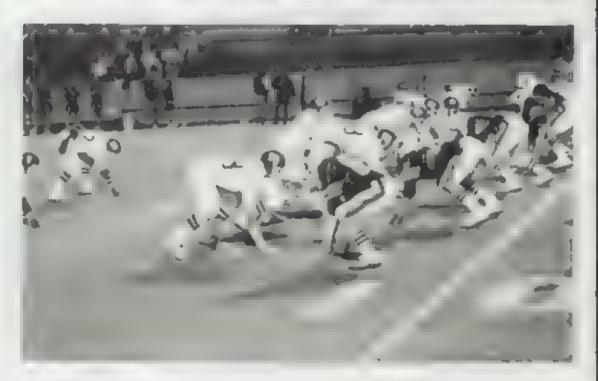

Not only Senior Braves are Red Hot, Junior Braves are hot as well. Our Braves started off their season with a 20-14 victory over the Rogers Ropers. As a result, they had to be taken to a local fire station immediately to be COOLED DOWN. Pictured are the Senior Football Players, as they promote their team spirit with "BRAVES ARE RED HOT" slogans at the fire station. The Senior Class then proceeded to boost CENTRAL'S SPIRIT by selling Red Hots.

H-O-T T-O G-O, CENTRAL BRAVES ARE HOT TO GO! AAHH WHOOP! HOT TO GO! AAHH WHOOP! HOT TO GO! This cheer was screamed by many Braves as our team continued on through the season.

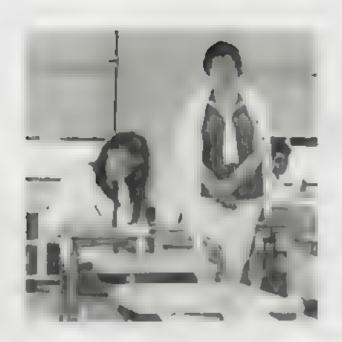

Classes

These weren't just class officers. They were SENIOR class officers! Now there were so many plans to make, and things to decide. No longer were they just leaders of the class, but leaders of the school. To them working together meant not only during meetings, and only with other seniors. The work was daily, a constant promotion of spirit and bride for the entire school, making a statement with whatever they did. They didn't just sell red hots, they let people know that the Class of '82 was RED HOT!

With over 350 members, the Junior Class is the largest class at Central. Of 350, the class chose five responsible members as officers, and twenty-four members to serve as their Junior Board. Mrs. Nelson was the Junior Sponsor. These people met twice a month to discuss assemblies, activities, and fundraisers.

To begin their successful year, they sold Calendars called "Calendar of Events." Their next fundraiser, a first at Central, was a great success. The class of 1983 sold Halloween Treat Bags, Selling over 1000, they made a great profit. The mighty Juniors also participated in the play campaign and collected newspapers for the newspaper drive.

The Junior Class is definitely a hard working and very spirited class. In only a few months, the Junior Class will be "The Senior Class." but no matter who, they are still THE CLASS OF 1983, and that is what counts!

Janese Bradford, president

Sophomore Officers

As Sophomores, many of us felt we'd come up a step — we were finally the upper rank of lower classmen!

We immediately became an active part of Central as we elected officers and attendants to Miss Central. We took part in the Freshman/Sophomore play, "And Then There Were None", Spirit Week, and Freshman/Sophomore dances.

We trusted Janese and Tammy to lead us and they did just that in planning activities with the other officers, and in leading in class spirit

As the year began to wind down in the spring, we were active in "Daze" and elected King Daze attendants. We started thinking ahead to our junior year when we would order class rings and finally be upper classmen. We had spirit and a whole lot more!

The "Diary of Anne Frank." under the direction of Cathy Chee, brought profit to the Junior Class and the Senior Class this year

Mrs. Chee devoted much of her time and effort into directing these students so on opening night juniors and seniors would be ready to perform at their best

With many months, days, hours and last minute rehearsals, these multi-talented juniors and seniors struggled, fought, worked, and finally performed the "Diary of Anne Frank."

They don't wear suits and monitor the stock exchange. They don't even sell stocks and bonds. This year Jr. Achievement did sell frisbees and digital clocks though and they did observe first hand the details of business and career by touring Shell Oil Company and Tulsa Tribune.

Central's Jr. Achievement, one of the largest and most successful in the city, is sponsored by Shell Oil. Its purpose is to teach students how businesses operate. It also teaches teenagers about the free enterprise system, economics, and human relationships, and helps them to find out about their own talents and creativity.

Vo-Tech

What is Vo-Tech? This is a question many people ask. Vo-Tech is a vocational school where students can learn almost everything they need to know about almost any occupation of their choice. Junior and senior students from all Tulsa area high schools are allowed to go to Vo-Tech. The classes last three hours every day, therefore, students spend half the day at Vo-Tech and half the day at their home schools.

At Vo-Tech you can learn about nursing, commercial art, photography, auto mechanics, dental care, child care, clerical work, and much, much more

Many people may think Vo-Tech would be somewhat easy and fun to go to, but it is not always that way, it can be fun, but it is also a lot of hard work.

We weren't #!!

(but you could have fooled them.)

Many people think of cheerleading as more of a social club than the average school organization. The main differences are that these girls are selected by a panel of judges and must put forth constant effort to represent us properly

The work began in the summer, when in July both squads attended camp. The varsity squad attended camp at the University of Arkansas, and brought home one gold, one excellent, and five superior ribbons, a spirit stick, and a top five superior trophy. Junior varsity went to Oklahoma University in Norman, and they received one excellent and three superior ribbons, and a spirit stick.

Early in October there was the small crisis of switching sponsors. The old sponsor, Mrs. Foster, was leaving Central. The squad continued in limbo until Mrs. Sutherland (with strong ideas about reviving school spirit) took over.

Too many people don't realize the work involved in being a cheerleader. Of course there's some amount of prestige involved in wearing those "Nifty" red and white uniforms, but it's no fungetting up and yelling your lungs out at eight in the morning during your summer vacation, or coming home hoarse and cold after a November football game. Sure these girls are proud of what they do - proud to be cheerleaders, but why shouldn't they be?

"The leadership and quality expressed by the squads this year are only the beginning of a rebuilding program to promote the spiritual tradition Central has been accustomed to."

Vice-President - Phil Bryson

Secretary - Nick Prince

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a club open to all students of Central High School. The main purpose of this club that meets on Fridays before school is to build the Christian Athletes character and strength through God's word.

FCA's history started in the late 1950's here in Oklahoma. Don McClanaen from Oklahoma State University was asked by his pastor to talk to young people about the Bible. As time passed he would travel to different high schools and organize speakers to strengthen the athletes and young people by telling their experiences through God.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Tulsa, Key Club performed many projects for the school and community. We ushered at the Miss Oklahoma Pageant, sponsored the annual car bash and bon-fire, sponsored the annual Pie-In-The-Eye contest, and much more.

As in the past, our year was highlighted with the annual District Convention which was held in Dallas this year. We entered Kathy Dunn and Cindy Pomeroy in the district sweetheart contest. Everyone worked hard and it turned out to be a very successful year.

Opera Club is a performing chorus which participates in assemblies, not only at Central, but also at local school and events.

One of the main projects of each year is the annual musical and this year was no exception We performed "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway."

But this year there were many changes, such as attending the "Tri-State" Music Festival in Enid, Oklahoma.

But one of the highlights of this year was the new ensemble "Expressions." It is made up of 16 students who auditioned from the Opera Club. They dedicate 30 minutes twice a week to perfecting their musical talent. They often perform for guests that come to Central and most of these students auditioned for the "Tri State" Honor Chorus and took solos and duets to perform in competition.

The Tulsa Central Marching Braves kept the beat going for the spirit of Central High School. They participated in pep assemblies, football games, bon-fires, contests, and parades. They represented a band with pride and tradition.

They started the year off with one week of intense training at Sequoya State Park, better known as BAND CAMP. During the football season, they represented Central High in contests in such places as Wichita, Kansas, Denton, Texas, and Tahlequah.

The Marching Braves were often heard at 6:30 in the morning practicing for upcoming events. Not only did they practice in the morning. They often practiced after school. Being a Marching Brave meant dedication, hard work, and sometimes disappointment. But the Braves held their heads up high with pride knowing they were representing Central High School

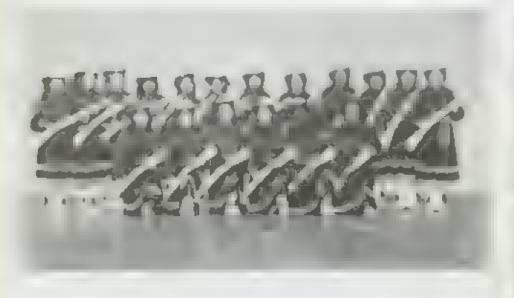

Not only did we work hard but we kept traditions, such as initiation for new band members. The Seniors of "82" started new ones such as new Drum Majors receiving a pie-in-the-eye and new band members taking an oath.

This year the tech class constructed a 2 story set exposing to the view of the audience a small attic in the top of an old warehouse. Each room could be seen at all times, showing all the actors/actresses throughout the performance.

The tech crew worked hard and long to build this dynamic set.

Also, we would like to show our appreciation towar our mascots, Stephanie Sutherland and Greg Campbifor helping us support our teams and show our school spirit.

Going to pep assemblies and games, making signs, doing favors for the teams, selling spirit ribbons and candy, and, last but not least, making it to the meetings every Thursday morning at 7:30 was not all the Red Feathers/ Scalpers did this year. The foremost activity of the Red Feathers Scalpers was to unite and strengthen the spirit of the entire student body. Officers Donna Morrow, president, Keri Standridge, vice-president, Denise Morrow, secretary, and Sherri Daniel, treasurer worked hard to organize the activities held throughout the year, which included the election of Mr. Spirit and, of course, Spirit Week. Participation in these activities was a great success.

Student Council

Student Council, an organization that represents the whole student body, began their year with a new sponsor, Mr Ernest McHugh Several members, along with Mr. McHugh, attended the Student Council Convention in Muskogee The theme chosen for the state convention was "The Rainbow Connection", When they returned, they were wearing pins which read. "I Love Stu-Co" Next, they helped Mr. Hasty sell Beau Art Tickets in December, Student Council participated in the canned food drive along with Red Cross, purchased and decorated a Christmas tree for the Central Common's area, and held the December city-wide Stu-Co luncheon. At the luncheon, entertainment was provided by Sherri Daniel and the varsity cheerleaders. Each school, plus Dr Zenke and Don Hoopert, was given a bulb to hang on our tree. Stu-Co sold hats and pennants at the football and basketball games in January, ten members attended the Jenks Workshop, Student Council members also sold DAZE tickets and musical tickets, In conclusion, "We Love Stu-Co".

Students Fave LeBlanc and Mondo Porter listen to the agenda of a Thespians meeting one early Tuesday morning

The National Thespian Society is an educational organization which aims to establish and advance standards of excellence in all phases of theatre arts, and which aims to create an active and intelligent interest in theatre arts in high schools.

This year at Central we voted at the beginning of the 1981-82 school year to change from CAST (Central Acting and Stage Troupe) to Thespians.

This year we have about 23 students at large and around 10 chartered members. To be chartered a student must earn at least 10 points by participating on stage and backstage.

The Thespian Society here at Central didn't receive their troupe number until mid-January. But many of the students helped out in any way they could, either by working backstage, selling tickets, or by performing in the many plays Central has to offer during the school year. Not only did they work on the stage at Central, but they also helped in workshops at the University of Tulsa and went to local plays in Tulsa.

We kept the traditions of Red Brick and the Spring Banquet but also helped advance the fine Arts week by performing a One-Act play.

The students of Thespians would like to thank Mrs. Chee for all her help in the performances we presented on the Central stage.

The Thespians kept the beat going by upholding traditions but also starting new ones. As the Thespians motto says: "Act well your partithere all the honor lies."

Thespians involves itself not only by performing but also by working behind the scenes.

Trying to capture memories and put them in a book — someone told us that was our job, but it was also said to have a good time while we were doing it. Well, blurred pictures, deadlines, lost film, stolen cameras and arguments were all part of our good time.

Through it all, Alison, Suzan, Susan, Brian, Julie, Jennifer, Cathy, Eric, Kevin, Mondo, Cathy, James, John, Ruth and Mr. Smith had a. well interesting time. We hope you find our Tom Tom interesting as well.

Tribal Tribune

Jean Spears, Sponsor

The senior staff of Tribal Tribune published and distributed the paper, with contributions from Journalism I. On deadline days, one might hear shrieks coming from our little hole in the wall on the second floor, as we tried, with success, to assemble eight issues of Tribal Tribune. We endeavored to cover school activities, news events, local and national, and still retain our sanity. As the year came to a close we knew we'd made it and were proud of our success.

The Journalism I class is a training class for students who want to be on the senior staff of Tribal Tribune and Tom Tom. They learn the differences in writing techniques for news stories, features and editorials. Often their writings are printed in the monthly edition of Tribal Tribune. They also work on the advertising for the newspaper. They also study layout, copy-writing and picture cropping for the yearbook.

Organizations provide funds

This year each of the 25 organizations was asked to donate $50.00 to a fund that would benefit the whole school. (Yes, even the Toga kids, pictured above, commonly called the senior class, were asked to donate.)

The graduating classes of 1931 and 1932 said they would provide us with a contribution to purchase a long-sought-after marquee, only if we could raise the rest. Money was raised by candy sales, donations, selling seat cushions and cook books etc. Central students worked hard and long to collect money for the marquee. As to when it will be completed, it is not certain, but Central students soon hope to see a marquee in front of Central High School.

Braves surprise all in victory

With the beginning of school comes the beginning of another football season and when the Braves touched the turf of Skelly Stadium little did the Ropers know that the Braves would not succumb to the Rogers offense this time. The Braves held tight to the ball and ran for a 20-14 victory that night, ending a record-breaking 56-game losing streak.

The games that followed were exciting. With the Braves fired up and the crowds always cheering. Central fought hard and would not fall easily.

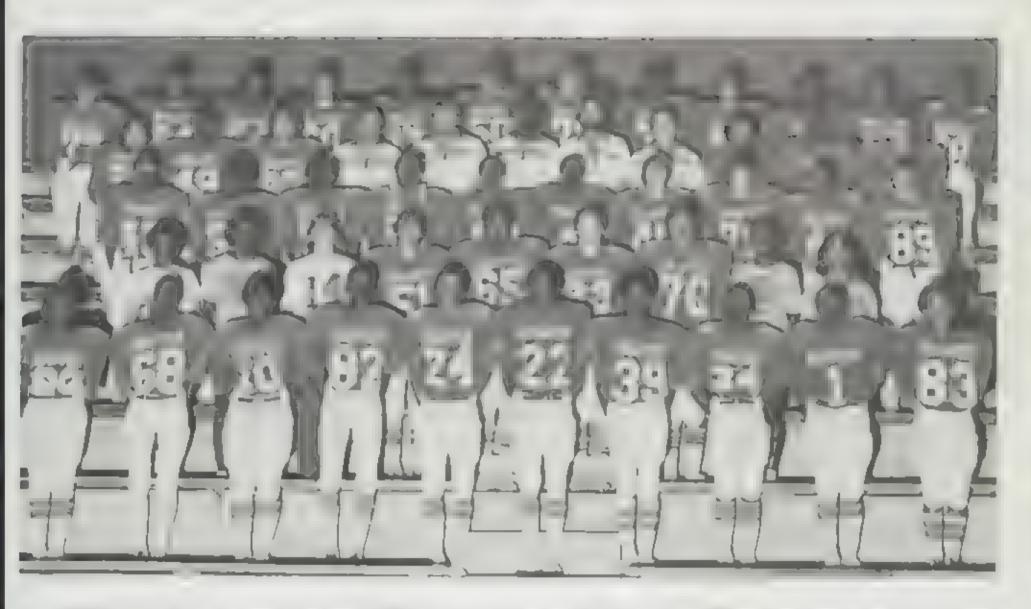

From tag to tackle, fumbles to formation, or faded fields to Skelly Stadium, the Central Braves experienced it all with their fans supporting them all the way. The Braves' unique size, enthusiasm, and spirit laid the foundation for the most outstanding season Central has had in a long time. Congratulations!

Second big year for girls softball

September of 1981 started the second season for the Central girls' softball team. With only a few weeks until the first game, the 12 woman team hit the field, working out every day after school for two sweaty hours. The girls opened their season with a win over the McLain Scots, and then went on to win a double header against Washington.

With "Butch" Fisher as coach and lead by four starting Seniors: RaeLynn Cooper (Pitcher), Mondo Porter (First base), Jane Smith, Captain (Third base), and Diane Treat (shortstop), the team finished out the season with a 3-5 record.

Cross country team goes the distance

Small but powerful, few but strong, are the words to describe e Central Cross Country team. They ran a lot of hard miles every by to run a two mile race in the meet. Their hard work gave them fourth place in the conference. Though they were six in number, ey proved that it is not the quantity but the quality that makes bu number one, and that is how the Braves Cross Country team nished.

Braves bounce through successful season

When a person hears the word "basketball" he thinks of fast action, top scorers, dunking, rebounds, and winning. When a Centralite thinks of the "Braves", he thinks of the basketball team that always provides its audiences with fast action, top scoring, dunks, rebounds, and above all, wins, and that's just what the Brave team did this season.

Before the season started, the area coaches were asked by the press to identify the teams they thought would make the top ten in the Indian Nations Conference. Central was picked second by the majority of the coaches, and the Braves proved their ability in the following seasons games.

Through all the games and tournaments the Braves basketball team stood fast and if they fell, never went down without a fight. The fans were there through it all, providing all with spirit and confidence, cheering on a team who through it all was determined to be #1, and in our minds that's what they were ...

At the beginning of the basketball season the Braves battled many teams, but one of the most outstanding games was the game against the Washington Hornets. This game was played on Washington's court, televised over cable channel nine, and watched by thousands of people in both the gym and at home. Many players on both teams displayed fine skills in handling the ball, and made us all proud to be cheering on such fine teams.

Senior players this year were Eugene Jones, Marvail Dogans, Greg Busby, Reggie Young, Joe Lewis, Keith Palmer. All displayed a true quality of sportsmanship and never let us down. Other

This season was a successful season with much to be proud of, and it is often said that a team isn't a team until they play as one and a victory in your heart is as good as a victory on the scoreboard.

The Lady Braves stormed the court this season battling many opponents with strength and determination. With coaches Jerry Neal and Alan Hampson behind this fine team it was hard to go wrong.

Leading the team in their fight against leading the team in their fight against the foes were Senior starters; Leigh Walker, Rae Lynn Cooper, and Jane Smith. These girls proved the talent they had was unmatchable and genuine, and throughout the season they kept the team going and would not let them down.

Other players on the team showed their support by playing together as one and not giving up if they lost.

The Lady Braves met many fine teams this year and traveled with the boys team to different parts of the state and to Springdale, Arkansas. Both boys and girls were defeated there, but the games were nevertheless, exciting and unforgettable.

The girls team did their best this year and overcame many of their shortcomings, but all in all it was a successful year for this Varsity team. With many girls playing basketball this year and the team only losing three Seniors, next years' team should prove to be even better.

J.V. boys show potential during '82

Central's young team, the Junior Varsity boys, demonstrated this year the potential that is growing in Central's fine basketball teams. Practicing hard helped this team play better and better in each game as the season wore on.

Coach Fisher, who was one of the boys' varsity coaches, helped these young men develop their ability to be a fine team, made up of fine players who have the know how and drive to be good ball players on future varsity teams.

The Junior Varsity was not only a fine ball team but the fact that there is a J.V. team helped young Centralites - Freshmen and Sophomores - become involved with sports and activities at Central Winning and being the best are often the goals of many teams and that is what competitive sports emphasizes. Even though this team may not have won as much as they would have liked, there were unity and friendship among the team members.

This team is the future of Central's varsity and if anyone has the potential and drive, it is these young Braves.

J.V. girls were out to be the best

Another young basketball team to start this year was the other half of the J.V. group, the J.V. girls.

This team, although somewhat young and inexperienced, was determined to be another outstanding Central team. Because of the small size of Central's J.V. girls the teams they played outsized them but never out played them. The Braves played harder and faster, which prepared them for future varsity positions.

Amanda Williams and Donna Daniels led the team on to many victories and set examples for the young freshmen and sophomore players. Behind the coaching of Allan Hampson, this team improved tremendously and impressed many specators.

We are young, but we are proud

"We are still a young team," said Head Coach Tony Speer. Their positive attitudes and willingness to go out and win makes their coaches, Speer and Carter, proud. "They are not afraid to go out and hook-it-up with the big guys that are more experienced." Which of course is a common characteristic in a Central Brave.

With their strenuous schedule they managed to pull off a great year. The learning experience they gained this year will be an advantage to them in the near future. As Speer puts it. "By the time these guys get to be seniors they will be making the headlines, and when they do, LOOK OUT!

Swimmers take your mark!!!

A fast start like this one earned Roberta Wilson a first place in the 50-free against Hale this year.

A typical Central High School Swim Meet.

Coach Balint made sure the workouts and meets went smoothly

This year's team wasn't quite as small as it was in past years. It consisted of 6 seniors, 4 juniors, 6 sophomores, and 5 freshmen so Coach Balint had a pretty good team to work with this season. Some of our outstanding swimmers consisted of Sam Park, Mike Pompa, James Reynolds, and Paul Jorritsma, who swam in the 200 yard mediey relay. Our 400 yard freestyle relay team, consisting of Brian Chee, Eric Goins, Ricky Hines, and Darren Fryhover didn't do too badly either. Our divers proved to be a valuable asset to the team too.

Roberta Wilson, our only girl swimmer, could more than hold her own against some of the other schools and the coach sees her as a state qualifier in the year to come. All of our juniors, sophomores, and freshmen have potential, and it looks like a good team is in the making.

Swimming is the personal accountability sport. No swimmer can attribute an inferior performance to poor field conditions a bad call by the official, inept teammates, or any of the multitude of other circumstances which have become prevalent alibis in sports. Accountability for performance in swimming rests almost entirely with the individual swimmer, and swimmers understand this. It is not surprising, therefore, that young people who elect to participate in competitive swimming usually possess special qualities of dedication and self-discipline.

It's here again and things are looking good for the Central Girls Volleyball team. They started practice in early February but couldn't practice in the gym, so they played at Owen Park and got in an hour of practice every day. Nervous, excited, and determined are the words to describe the team as they faced the Memorial Chargers in their first game Returning starters Junior Beth Whisman and Senior Rae Lynn Cooper led the young team to an encouraging season.

Golfers par out another season

The golf team this year was small in size but big in experience. They were led by seniors Kevin McDaniel and William Ward, returning with two years experience, and David Curd, returning with one. Junior Shawn Abbott returned with high hopes after one year on the team. With the additions of junior Randy Claxton and freshman Mike Pomeroy, the team should be ready for any challengers. The Braves play other high schools in head to head matches at such public courses as Lafortune. Mohawk, and Page Belcher, trying to fine tune their games for the state tournament

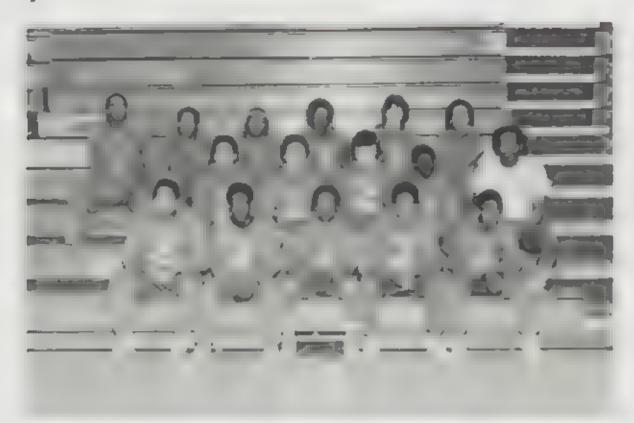

As another winter wound down, the Central track team took the field with a young team. Seniors Eric Barnett and Greg Adamson and Junior Nick Prince led the pack. Head Coach Ted Alexander said, "We're seriously looking to the state meet this year, and we've got a good chance of taking it all." The girls' team was also young, but they had a lot of talent too. Even though they had only two seniors, Tracy Johnson and Ruth Carlile, they still looked forward to joining the boys at the state meet.

Braves' baseball team strikes our fancy

Baseball, the all-American sport. It fits right in there with Mom's apple pie and hotdogs, it is a well liked sport ranging from pee-wee to major leagues, and we must say that the Braves' baseball team is one of the best.

Baseball has always been one of the more popular spring sports at Central and one of the better teams. With not many returning Seniors the baseball team is young, but experienced and ready for challenge. They have beat what are said to be some of the best teams in the city and this year were even more determined.

The Braves' baseball team is coached by Terry Brinkman, who has been the team's coach for the past several years. Even though Coach Brinkman worked the team hard they treated him with respect and admiration.

The team this year had one of the best pitchers in the city, Jesse Renschler, as was stated by a fellow teammate. A second pitcher for the team, Kenny Troxell, and catcher, Kevin Moore, did outstanding jobs as well. Outfielders and infielders, Mark Blair, Richie Hunt, Marty Hayward, Charlie Blevins, and Terrence Cherry, were kept busy preventing the other team from scoring as were other players on the team.

Coach Brinkman and his baseball team did an outstanding job this season and having only lost a few seniors will do even better, it is feared by other teams, next season. And with all the long hours of hard work and the positive attitude of winning the Braves' baseball team displayed, they were well-deserving of their victories!

Weightlifting: Building a stronger tomorrow

With football season over, and winter setting in those athletes who play football found themselves with drive and ambition to get bigger and stronger. They started their own individual club during sixth hour, conditioning their bodies for their future goals.

Some people like to run, others like to just be lazy, but these guys know how to work.

By using the various techniques such as the bench press, deadlifts, squats, military press, and leg press they work their way into girls' hearts with all their muscles.

Curtis Holland was top lifter followed by Dwight Sanders, with Steve Whitaker close behind and Kevin McDaniel and Nick Prince in constant combat.

"Somethin's happenin' here ...

.. there's a man with a gun over there ... " Murder. Possibly the worst crime to have ever been committed. Human lives are taken daily, and people say, "Well, it happens." One attempt on a life was not taken so lightly. On March 30, 1981, the newly elected president of the United States, Ronald Reagan, became the target of a wouldbe assassin. John W. Hinkley was in the crowd outside Washington's Hilton Hotel as the President and company were leaving. Hinkley took aim and fired, injuring Michael Deaver, Thomas Delanaty, Tim McCarthy, and James Brady, as well as President Reagan. His motive: to win the heart of actress Jodie Foster "with this historical deed."

On May 13, 1981, Mehmet Ali Agca attempted to take the life of Pope John Paul II while he was driving around St. Peter's Square in his "Popemobile." The gunman fired a pistol, hitting the Pope's abdomen and one hand and leaving two women bleeding in the street.

"... getting so much resistance from behind ..."
No, the Equal Rights Amendment hasn't been ratified, and at times it seems as though the Constitution only applies to half the country, but after 191 years, one woman has beaten that system. Sandra Day O'Connor, a fifty-one year old appellate court judge from Phoenix and mother of three, became the first woman to serve on the United States Supreme Court. Right-to-lifers thought this was an absolutely absurd idea, featuring Mrs. O'Connor's beliefs on the Human Life Amendment. During her confirmation hearing, she stated, "For myself, it (abortion) is offensive."

"..., stop now, what's that sound?" On September 19. 1981, in New York's Central Park, Paul Simon and Art Garfunkle performed a benefit concert before 400,000 Sixties veterans and fans.

The concert was intentionally to be solo. Simon would do the concert and "work Artie into it." He thought it would be nice to bring his ex-partner out for a few numbers, but decided that wasn't good enough. The show became the reunion of the decade.

The sponsors of the concert were Warren Hirsch and Fiorucci with proceeds from t-shirt sales going to the New York Parks Department.

A video of the show is to be released. It will be directed by Michael Lindsay-Hogg, the director of "Let it Be."

No indication has been made that they will once again be a duo, but their old tunes will always keep us "feeling groovy."

". . into your life it will creep ... " Bob Marley, the King of Reggae, died in his sleep on May II, 1981, just hours after receiving treatment for brain, lung, and liver cancer. He was one of the most influential musicians of the past twenty years, with record sales well into the millions. He not only received recognition from fans, but from famous musicians, such as Mick Jagger, Eric Clapton, Paul Simon, and others.

The marriage took place at Sir Christopher Wren's St. Paul's Cathedral. After the ceremony, the Prince and Princess were taken to Buckingham Palace for breakfast, driven in the royal carriage — what else?

Congratulations were again in order for Charles and Diana as they are soon to be parents.

Some of us were lucky enough to witness a fairy tale take place during our lifetime.

The Stones toured the United States. Lucciano Pavorotti came to Tulsa. Alan Alda came to Oklahoma-purposefully. The Oklahoma Congress defeated the purpose. Christopher Cross won five Grammies. John McEnroe became the man we love to hate when he defeated five-time Wimbledon winner Bjorn Borg and thrashed him to bits at the U.S. Open. Deborah Fountain, Miss New York, was excluded from competing for Miss U.S.A. when it was discovered she was padding her bra. Air traffic controllers and baseball players went on strike. A nine-year-old boy robbed a bank in New York. Dan Rather took Walter Cronkite's place. Laura left "General Hospital." Carol Burnett won a libel suit against "National Enquirer." Billie Jean King was sued for palimony. During her antismoking campaign, Brooke Shields stated, "Smoking kills. If you're killed, you've lost a very important part of your life." Bobby Sands starved in Ireland. Natalie Wood drowned. Jodi Foster received letters from a would-be assassin. The middle square took his final turn. The Rubik's Cube became the hula hoop of the Eighties.

Central Braves say goodbye

Six of our Braves, whom we are most proud of, wish to express their goodbyes to Central High. Each of these young gentlemen left the basketball court, basketball in hand, proud, and loved by many CHS fans. As our Braves walked out the gym door, they waved their goodbyes to all, knowing they would never play basketball for the Braves again.

They will be greatly missed, especially Eugene, with his great ball handling; through the legs, around and behind the back and of course his great field goals. Marvail with his free throws, rebounds and his slam dunks. Reggie with his rebounds, free throws and his marvelous steals. Greg, Keith and Joe added the final touch to a winning team.

Head Coach Williams said his goodbyes at the door as they were leaving, but wait! What is this? Coach Fisher, ARE YOU FOR REAL????? (pictured below).

Letters from the editors

I would like to extend special thanks to the following:

Greg, our little dog from Petersen's Photography, for his undying cooperation, even at a moment's notice.

All the firemen at Station Number 14 for playing yearbook staff with us.

Southroads Cinema- "Staff" was a great movie.

All the teachers who allowed us to leave class early to work on the yearbook and go to Mazzio's. (Oopsi Can I say that?)

Brad Belvin and Jeff Frizell for the outstanding job they did on the cover and division pages.

The groovy chicks and dudes of the Tom Tom staff: Alison, Susan, Brian, Julie, Jennifer, Cathy, Eric, Kevin, Mondo, James, John, and Ruth. You were all pleasures to work with, and I appreciate each of you for your cooperation and dedication. Thanks to those of you who worked twice as hard as you should have.

A thank you is not enough for you, Mr. Smith. You were excellent to work with, and sometimes I don't know how you put up with us, but you managed to stick with us through thick and thin. You were truly the "Incredible Doctor Yearbook!"

Cathy Rayner, you were wonderfull Thanks for helping me in the fight for color senior pictures. To all who bought our book: "Take this, brother. May it serve you well."

- Susan Ashby

The Tom Tom '82 was a wild and zany staff. Our members consisted of a varsity cheerleader, a junior, band members, sr. board members, swimmers, football players, newspaper members, and a few punk rockers. It has been a real challenge working with them, but I wouldn't have changed it for the world. I would also like to say thanks to: Fire Station Number 14 for cooling our "red hot" braves off. Our wonderfully understanding teachers around deadline time. To Brad Belvin and Jeff Frizell for their fantastic artistic abilities. To our red headed friend and the rest of the gang at Petersen's Photography. I would like to give a special thanks to Suzan Ashbyl Without her I think I would have bombed out and we would never have had a yearbook! A special thanks to Mr. Smith, a remarkable man. He has endured the yearbook staff for this year with patience and concern. Thanks for keeping those parties we didn't have a secret. You were really great!!!!! Thanks to all you loyal braves for keeping the beat going.

— Cathy Rayner

Mr. McHugh: 32 years of Dedication

For 32 years Ernest McHugh has devoted his life to Central High School. As a token of our appreciation, the Tom Tom staff would like to dedicate the 1982 Tom Tom to him. Here's to you. Mr. McHugh!

"Mr. McHugh has dedicated his life to Central High School. So many Braves have benefited from him." - Mr. Fowler

"Mr. McHugh has the weirdest coffee cup I have ever seen."

- Mr. Turnbaugh

"As a class sponsor, I appreciate Mr. McHugh. He always has Central's best Interest at heart." - Mrs. Carroll

"In 1962 while I was a student, I used to hide outside his door and listen to his lectures. I still do that today," - Mr. Wightman

"Having Mr. McHugh handy is like having a living handbook on Central. When a teacher wants to know, "What did they do when ... 7" Mr. McHugh has the answer." - Mrs. McMillan

"I have always thought Mr. McHugh was one of the best class sponsors Central has ever had. He is enthusiastic, organized, and concerned. He also exhibits these qualities as a teacher." - Mr. Meeks

"I like participating in his ticket campaigns because he is so organized, and as far as individuality is concerned (say in clothes), he certainly stands out in a crowd." - Ms. French

"I admire anybody who can act as an entertainer, secretary, janitor, counselor, and friend while teaching for 32 years and still look as good as Mr. McHugh." - Ms. Vaughn

"Knowing Mr. McHugh for the past 8 years, I think he is one of the best examples of what Central is all about." - Mr. Woodward "Ernie is all right!" - Gary Flemings
